Relocating to Charlotte / Raleigh, NC — Available Immediately

Hiring Manager
Medtronic — Pelvic Health
Charlotte, NC

Dear Hiring Manager,

Product demonstrations that convert skeptical professional audiences, territory planning driven by CRM data and Power BI analytics, and market share growth in a contracting market at 145% of monthly quota — these are the results I have delivered in B2B field sales. I am applying for the Sales Representative position in Medtronic's Pelvic Health division because the skills that produced those outcomes transfer directly to what a strong Medtronic rep does every day.

At KraftMaid Cabinetry, I managed a $5.47M portfolio across 23 accounts in the Boston market, serving as the primary field representative responsible for revenue performance, account health, and competitive positioning. I delivered structured product education and live demonstrations across all 23 locations — training multi-level account teams on complex product features and performance applications. This mirrors the in-service and clinical education work that defines the Pelvic Health sales role. I built the territory through data-driven Salesforce and Power BI planning, grew market share while the industry contracted, and hit 145% of monthly quota in January 2026.

I am not coming from a clinical sales background, and I want to be straightforward about that. What I bring is the complete field sales infrastructure — territory management, consultative relationship building, structured education delivery, and competitive performance — and the commitment to learn Medtronic's InterStim technology and the urology/urogynecology call environment with the same depth I applied to learning a complex product portfolio in consumer goods. The mission of Pelvic Health solutions — restoring quality of life for patients with overactive bladder and pelvic floor dysfunction — is something I find genuinely motivating.

I am relocating to Charlotte immediately with no start date constraints. I would welcome a conversation about the Pelvic Health territory and what success looks like in year one.

Sincerely,
Collin Celic
